

Vaping

What is Vaping?

Vaping is a term used when inhaling vapor made by an electronic cigarette or similar device.³ The most common substances vaped are marijuana and nicotine with a flavored liquid.³ There is a myth that vaping is safe.³ The truth is, vaping is not safe, because these liquids may contain toxic substances that can harm your lungs.³ Many vaping liquids also contain nicotine, which can be very addictive, and impact brain development for teens and young adults.³

Warning signs of Vaping?

Signs of vaping can be harder to notice than smoking traditional cigarettes or marijuana. How can you tell if someone you care about may be vaping? Identify the signs:³

- They have vaping devices like e-cigarettes, flavored liquid bottles, and small pods or cartridges. E-cigarettes come in many different shapes and sizes, and often look like a pen or flash drive.
- A faint smell of flavoring that you can't find or identify near the person or in your home.
- They are thirstier than normal.
- They have many nosebleeds.
- They are not drinking as many caffeinated beverages.

How you can help.

These tips are for caregivers, friends, and community members who are concerned someone they know may have a problem with vaping and do not understand the risks or why they shouldn't use them. Take Action:³

- Check in often to see how they are doing.
- Choose relaxed times to talk, such as in the car, during dinner, or while watching TV.
- Let them know you care and are always there for them.
- Be clear and consistent about your expectations regarding vaping.
- Make an agreement to spend time together doing social and extracurricular activities.
- Help them create an "exit" plan in case they are offered or are faced with a difficult decision about vaping.
